RE: STATUS OF STIMULUS BILL HIGHWAY FUNDS

The attached table shows the obligation and expenditure of American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) highway funds as of April 7, based on data provided to ARTBA by the Federal Highway Administration. ARTBA will produce a similar report at the end of each month.

This initial report shows that state and local DOT's are making good progress toward the goal of using ARRA highway funds to make highway investments and create jobs in the U.S. economy. The bill was passed on February 17 and funds were apportioned among the states on March 2. In the one month since then:

- Forty-four states have obligated a total of $5.508 billion for highway improvements. This one-month total represents 59.0 percent of the $9.33 billion that must be obligated within 120 days of apportionment (by June 30) and 20.7 percent of the total amount of highway funds apportioned.
- Eight states are already paying contractors for construction work performed, with outlays to date totaling $2.2 million. To have projects underway within one month of receiving funds represents quick action by the responsible state and local highway agencies.
- Seven states, however, have not obligated any ARRA funds as of April 7—Alaska, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Ohio and Virginia. If these states fail to act by June 30, as much as $1.54 billion would be pulled back and distributed to other states.
- Two states—Iowa and Massachusetts—have transferred a total of $13.2 million of ARRA highway funds to the Federal Transit Administration for transit projects. No states have yet used ARRA highway funds for freight or passenger rail or port infrastructure projects, as is also allowed in the bill.
